

Here at All Out Catering we are 'passionate about food!'

It is now that most other caterer's will entice you with impressive words and phrases about what they can do and offer, setting high expectations which they inevitably wont live up to.

We are not like that, we prefer to let our food, service, experience, and testimonials from our previous customers speak for themselves.

David McClelland, Partner and Chef in All Out Catering is highly talented and decorated with many awards, and like a certain other Scottish Chef his passion is not only apparent on the plate, but also through his colourful use of the English language.

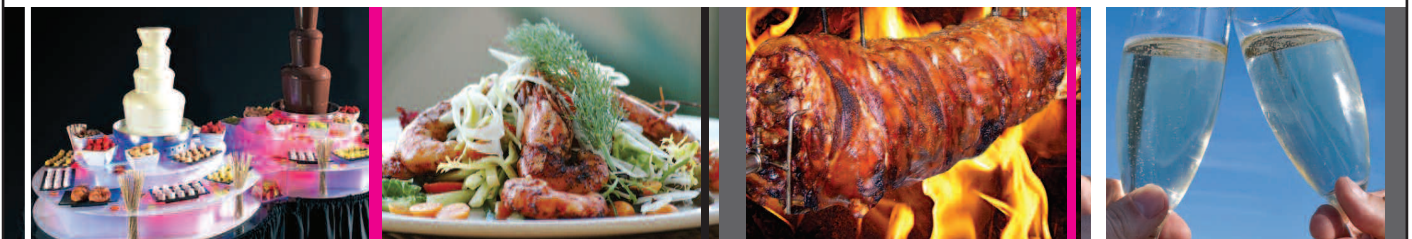

On the other hand, All Out Catering's other Partner; Colin Jamieson who has a wealth of experience in all aspects of the Hospitality & Catering Industry is a man of few words. Professional, calm and collected, he is rarely fazed by what the industry can throw at him, although his hairline tells a different story.

The combination of David's culinary talents and straight talking, with Colin's professionalism and few words are echoed through all that they do. With finding caterers often proving a daunting task, look no further as you have found a company which is simple, honest, and easy to deal with.

We look forward to receiving your thank you letter!
